

Dayara Bugyal Trek

(Dehradun to Dehradun)

Overview

Region :- Uttarakhand

Duration :- 6 Days

Grade :- Easy To Moderate

Max Altitude :- 12,100 Ft.

Approx Trekking Km :- N/A

The field uplands of Uttarakhand's snow capped statures are central focuses for a significant number of our breathtaking treks in the area. These are the Bugyals—fruitful green uplands discharged away in mountain laps where shepherds take their crowds in summer days before the winter snow renders them neglected. Dayara is a generally lesser known Bugyal, available from Uttarkashi by only a short, fresh trek yet it is one that satisfies great prizes.

Dayara in the nearby tongue alludes to a round plot of land, mirroring the loop molded verdant turf of this Bugyal, margined by dim oak and maple woods and past the green reaches, a shining snowline of the Bandarpoonch and different extents. A meandering aimlessly stroll through the undulated fields of Dayara will bring you out of the world edges of its green environment, the murmuring wild of the oak woods, and some place far away, a winded pinnacle see display bit by bit disclosing. Along the whole stretch, at various points, you can catch looks at the Gangotri set of pinnacles, Srikanth pinnacle, Bandarpoonch, and Black Peak.

Itinerary

Day 1- Dehradun to Natin Village

Raithal, is a wonderful town celebrated as base camp of Dayara Bugyal trek. It is around 38 km away from Uttarkashi. The town is thrived with lavish greenery. Bhagirathi River streams all through the route to the town. The course to Raithal resembles a pathway between the mountains. You will get first look at Gangotri run, Shrikanth top from Moryana top. Here you will stop for a little break on the off chance that you wish to catch the awesome pinnacles.

Day 2- Natin to Gui

Start early morning with empowered soul to set out on the genuine trek. Dream go himalayas on this is a stroll through the wilderness. It is loaded up with silver, gold oak trees. The course to campground is very much checked and the campground at Gui consistently stays in observable pathway. Dream go himalayas is rising slowly thus it will take around 4-5 hours to reach to the following resting point.

Day 3- Gui to Chelapada

Today is a littler day, much the same as climbing in mountains. Dream go himalayas rises gradually as the woods clears and the following campground of Chelapada will come. It will be a little climb. You can locate a streaming stream by the campground. You may get some snow follows on the way.

Day 4 - Chelapada to Dayara top and back Gui

Summit day at long last showed up. Today you will go to the most elevated point and return back to the campground. With the initial couple of steps under backwoods, Dream go himalayas continuously opens up, prompting tremendous glades. From now on, you will wind up walking on the green knolls bloomed with bright blossoms.

Day 5 - Gui to Natin

The little adventure in the mountains reaches an end today. Get up ahead of schedule and get all stuffed up to store the trek recollections in perpetual stockpiling.

Day 6 - Natin to Dehradun

Have a last cup of morning tea in Raithal. Express last farewell to your kindred trekkers, trade numbers, and bunches of recollections. Take a magnificent gathering picture and get into the taxi that will ride you back to Dehradun. This will a 7 hours ride, between the mountains, valleys and Bhagirathi waterway. The stream which guided us all through the trek.
